Litter Overall:

The Ava litter overall is confident and self-assured. They are very playful and happy. They are appropriately social with each other and with other dogs. They show no stress in new situations, around new people, or in circumstances that would typically be considered stressful. They are curious and investigative with new sights and sounds. They have good memory and problem-solving abilities. When in a new situation, their focus is a little scattered, but it does improve as the newness of something wears off. They are all motivated by food, toys, and interaction but in varying levels. This litter is socially appropriate with their interactions with people rarely using their mouth and having good bite inhibition. They are all comfortable and tolerant of handling and restraint and have moderate energy levels. This litter is very consistent overall and typical of what we would expect from schnoodles - being very bubbly and happy.
