Litter Overall:

The Baby Ruth litter overall is confident and self-assured. They are very bubbly, happy, and interactive. They are appropriately social with other dogs and one another. They show no stress in new situations, around new people or in circumstances that would typically be considered stressful. They have very good focus particularly towards people. They also have good memory and problem-solving abilities. They are very motivated by interaction and food. They are also motivated by toys. They were appropriate and social with interactions and with people. Although, a couple of the girls can be a bit insistent about getting attention. They have very good bite inhibition and are not vocal. They are very comfortable and tolerant to handling and restraint. They have no red flags and show no possessiveness. Overall the girls are very consistent from puppy to puppy and the boys are very consistent. Although, they are a bit different from one another.

Individual Notes:
