Litter Overall:

The Ivy litter overall is confident and self-assured. After giving them a minute to adjust, they show little to no stress in new situations, around new people or in circumstances that are typically considered stressful. They are appropriately social in their interactions with people, with other dogs and with cats. They react appropriately with new sights and sounds by being curious and investigative. If they get startled, they recover quickly. This litter overall has very good focus memory and problem-solving abilities. They also have good motivation at varying levels. This litter is very personable, affectionate and very appropriate in their interactions with people. They are very respectful, very tolerant and comfortable with handling and restraint. They rarely use their mouth and have excellent bite inhibition. They are rarely vocal, but when they do bark it is socially appropriate. This litter has no red flags and show no possessiveness. They are very consistent from puppy to puppy with very few differences. Those differences are listed below.

Individual Notes:

Ivy Blue has mid-level energy. He is confident and self-assured. When you give him a minute to adjust to a new situation, he is content to explore and play on his own. He is very playful and curious. He's motivated by food, interaction and toys. He is very personable, affectionate and very gentle. He has no extremes and would be well-suited in most any home.
